LIVING COLOR

Designer MEREDITH ELLIS sets the tone in Sally and Ross Taylor's art-filled University Park home.

In the Taylors' living room, designer Meredith Ellis coated the walls in Benjamin Moore's Fairmont Green, then added her signature mix of patterns. The round table is covered in a fabric by Pintura Studio, and the chairs are upholstered in a Lisa Fine textile. "It's an eclectic mix of artisanal and some comforting fabrics," says Ellis.

MERRY GO ROUND:
During the holidays, the living room doubles as an entertaining space. Sally clears the round table to make way for food and drink. "For parties, this room is where I set up the bar and a cheese tray—everyone sits in here."
